

Inission group policyCONFLICT MINERALS

Inission group is providing high quality electronic products and aspires to high standard of social responsibility and ethics according to our code of conduct policy.

In 2012, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), as directed by Section 1502 of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (Dodd-Frank-Act) finalized requirements for SEC reporting companies to disclose their use of Conflict Minerals originating from the Democratic Republic of Congo or adjoining countries (DRC).

Inission group responsibility is to secure and help our customers in reporting to SEC

Inission group efforts related to conflict minerals are aligned to the work of the Electronic Industry Citizenship Coalition® (EICC®) and Global e-Sustainability Initiative (GeSI). The EICC's and GeSI's work includes the Conflict-Free Smelter Program and the Conflict Minerals Reporting Template ("Template").

Inission group demand and secure that our suppliers are able to ensure appropriate investigations are exercised to determine the origin and custody of conflict minerals. We rely on the information provided by our suppliers.

We expect that products and components we receive from our suppliers are not deemed to be conflict minerals originating from the DRC or are Conflict Free.

Inission group will continuously evaluate and assess its supply chain and have updated documentation available for customers and stakeholders.

Inission group is committed follow and secure that no conflict minerals will be distributed from us to our customers. We are using the conflict minerals reporting template provided by the Conflict-Free Sourcing Initiative (cfsi). The template will be updated annually and is given upon request from our customers.

Fredrik Berghel

CEO